It is important to Kate that her content and the strategies she provides are 100% tailored to your audience/ team/ working environment/ industry. Kate ensures this by:

- Surveying your audience via a short 5 question anonymous survey to identify their key individual and team time pain points
- Guiding your audience to complete a 1 day personal time audit, each of which Kate reviews.

Kate's presentation absolutely nailed some of the key frustrations and roadblocks of our Director team. Getting back extra time is now a key focus for the business and Kate's tools will allow us all to get back some balance in our already busy lives. - Greg Sugars, CEO Preston Rowe Paterson

Thanks to working with Kate we now have daily practices in place that have improved the entire organisation's intelligence around time management, time blocking, setting big hairy tasks to start the day, and reducing the occurrences of multitasking. This has led to an enhanced respect for each other's time – moreover, our team are more often problem solving for themselves due to a delay in “interrupting” each other and the heightened awareness and respect we all have for each others' time and focus. - David Johnston, Managing Director Property Planning Australia

With a team across Australia & New Zealand, it is critical that we meet face to face, as a team, at least twice a year. Our PD and Strategy days are very important to us. It is also important that we bring the right thought leaders in to educate and inspire our team. This year we engaged Kate Christie from Time Stylers to challenge our thinking around how we invest our time. Kate's take on time, managing productivity and dealing with organisational drag was new and inspiring. Together, we dug deep into how we currently approach time at work and at home and we came away with a new insight into our individual and collective habits and behaviours and the motivation to make the changes we need to make. Since the event we continue to gain momentum with our productivity. Time with Kate is time well spent. - Michael Cromie, Managing Director Corporate Challenge Events

We engaged Kate Christie to work with individual staff on a 1:1 basis during our Wellness Week. Staff were offered 30-60 minute 1:1 coaching sessions to flush out their key time management challenges. It was a terrific way for Westpac to help address staff training needs in a very tailored and personal way. My team loved it. - Erika Perkins, Westpac
